Psychology Club Wants to Pick Your Brain

Psychology Club Meetings are every Tuesday at 11 am in the Social Science Building room number 215. The Psychology Club is always accepting new members and would love for you to sit the meetings to hear great lectures on current Psychology research, issues and participate in a lot of fun and exciting activities. So ask yourself:

“Is your brain ready to get psyched?”

Western Psychology Association (WPA) Conference

During the Spring 2008 Semester, Dr. Kimberley Duff, Psychology Instructor, took several students to the Western Psychology Association Conference. Dr. Duff did three oral presentations including the “outstanding” tutorial she designed for Research Methods. The students that accompanied Dr. Duff presented original research. This is quite an achievement for an undergraduate to present at a professional conference. Dr. Mark Duva, also a Psychology Instructor, along with student Cheryl Hannigan, presented on People’s Body Shape Perceptions and Preferences (Fallon and Rozin Revisited 6-36). If you would like to know more about the findings, visit the basement of the Social Sciences Building and review their poster of findings. Keep an eye out for next year’s conference so you can be a part of the experience.

Do you have an ACTIVE MIND?

What is Active Minds? According to the Director of the Mental Health Program and Psychology Department Chair, Michelle Lewellen, “Active Minds is an organization dedicated to raising awareness about mental health among college students and the community.” Active Minds, started by a team of students in the Mental Health Worker Program, also say that their club provides peer support for students who may have issues with their family member’s or own mental illness, information and resources regarding mental health and mental illness, as well as, advocating for mental health issues on a local and national level. The group is always busy and always accepting new members. Come join other Active Minds in early September (room TBA). If you have any questions about the club please contact:
